

Katherine
Cáceres

Director of Community
Outreach

Hello everyone, my name is Katherine Cáceres and I am an accounting major here at CSULB. I have been a part of ALPFA for the past three semesters. Since I joined the ALPFA organization I have been fortunate to find a second family, learn more about the accounting industry, and further develop professionally. I will always be grateful to ALPFA and for those reasons I would like to give back by running for Director of Community Outreach.

This past semester I had the opportunity of serving as the Director of Development for the Fall 2019 ALPFA board. The Director of Development position connected me with students and professionals and allowed me to help them connect as well. My organizational and time management skills were of great importance and I learned how to better manage each. Serving on the board has helped me grow not only professionally, but also as an individual.

As Director of Community Outreach, I would like to help remind our members the importance of giving back. We all come from diverse cultures, diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and have diverse life paths we plan to take, but it is our giving back and helping each other and others around us that unites us. It would be an honor to serve as Director of Community Outreach and help remind members that another one of our goals is to help those in need and create a sense of unity.
